

THE EMORY WHEEL

www.EMORYWHEEL.COM

Trendy Tuesday No.10

Calling all bikers out there: Is your backpack or tote a pain to haul around? Let me introduce you to Vaya Bags.

These bags, created for a cyclist by a cyclist, are intended to be the perfect carry-all for all bike riders.

Big enough to carry your laptop, books, iPod and cell, this bag is perfect for the student on the go.

Designed to withstand the elements, these waterproof bags are also eco-friendly.

The bags are made out of discarded materials like scraps of sailboat awnings and recycled bicycle tubes.

These messenger bags are perfect for those who ride their bikes to class or for the student looking for an eco-friendly, water resistant, functional bag. Features include an over-the-shoulder strap with side release clips, front pockets and a Velcro closure.

The bags even include reflective tape for those late nights when you're peddling back from the library.

Vaya bags come in all different shapes and sizes, such as messenger bags, laptop cases and wallets.

The bags also come in a variety of colors, and you can even choose what material you want your bag to be made out of.

So what are you waiting for? Stop the hassle you have with your current bag and customize your perfect carry-all today.

Get a first hand look over at www.vayabags.com.

